Early morning speed workout! I did 1 minute at a harder than usual pace, followed by a 1 mile recovery jog. In all honesty, I felt I could have PR'd my 10k time if I kept up with it. Legs felt good and I still had more to give if I wanted to. After the speed work, I went to the gym with Mackenzie to focus on lower body strength training. Rest day tomorrow, and back at it again!

Handwriting is an essential skill for both children and adults (Fedor & Majumder, 2007). Even in the age of technology, it remains the primary tool of communication and knowledge assessment for students in the classroom. The demands for it are great, whether in the classroom or beyond. A 1992 study (McLach & Lermak) found that 85 percent of all fine motor time in second-, fourth- and sixth-grade classrooms was spent on paper and pencil activities. A more recent study (Mann, Lermak, Loh & Henderson, 2003) noted that kindergarten children are now spending 42 percent of their fine motor time on paper and pencil activities.
