The use of the drug has become somewhat controversial with many people in support of the drug and others who say it does not work. Some say the drug is ineffective and the result of weight loss is attributed to the low-calorie diet. These naysayers are often individuals who have experience with homeopathic drops or fake HCG. They may also have purchased HCG online from suppliers who are selling fake HCG or HCG from abroad. This is very risky and the quality of that HCG is very poor. It's very important that you obtain your HCG from a company that works with U.S. compounding pharmacies.
