In den ersten Jahren (die letzten drei) genauer gesagt, hatte ich eine extrem steife Hüfte und eine fehlende ausreichende Mobilität im Sprunggelenk (Dorsiflexion) was dazu geführt hat, dass ich bei schwereren Beugen teilweise grauenhafte Kraft- oder Formeinbrüche hatte, dadurch kam es oft zu Knieproblemen und ein ungünstiges Bewegungsmuster spielte sich ein, dass meist zu größeren Rückschritten und letztendlichen zu chronischen Schmerzen geführt hat

So when this happens...your body is trying to send u a message to tell you your in a catabolic stage ☐meaning your body is maintaining and is holding on to what you already got and it's not in building mode...☐this will not allow you to get stronger and & you'll even go backwards in terms of strength gains - in other words overtraining☐it's took her 2 weeks to realise this as same was happening with deadlift couple of days ago she was weaker....she should be coming back full of energy☐☐ and stronger and not coming back tired and weaker from the last workout...☐
