Before becoming a mom, you wouldn't have caught me dead working out without a shirt on. Having kids won't "ruin" your physique. It took ME different amounts of time and effort after each pregnancy to "bounce back", and honestly coming back after the 4th was the quickest and easiest for me. My 2nd took me years to lose the weight compared to the 3.5 months after Scottie. ☐☐♀☐ It's a crapshoot, and if you happen to want to embrace your body however it is after having a baby not lose any weight, then rock on with your bad self too. ☐☐☐☐ #monstrong ♥☐

Joining the Army and serving my Country was the greatest honor I could fulfill but it also fucked me up beyond my wildest imagination. I am wrecked beyond belief from wounds that will never heal (MST), along with physical problems that no amount of surgery will repair and pain that no pill will ever take away. On top of this, I have Fibromyalgia. Today was the 1st time in 3 years that I had to pull this sucker out because I'm having trouble walking! I HATE COMPLAINING! btw, I have serious back issues due to Army injuries on top of the Fibro
