Living this way is boring at best and destructive at worst. Many people also desperately want to lose weight and often flog their bodies to try and achieve an impossible ideal only to make things worse. Elevated cortisol (stress & intense workouts) and blood sugar levels make it even harder to lose weight!

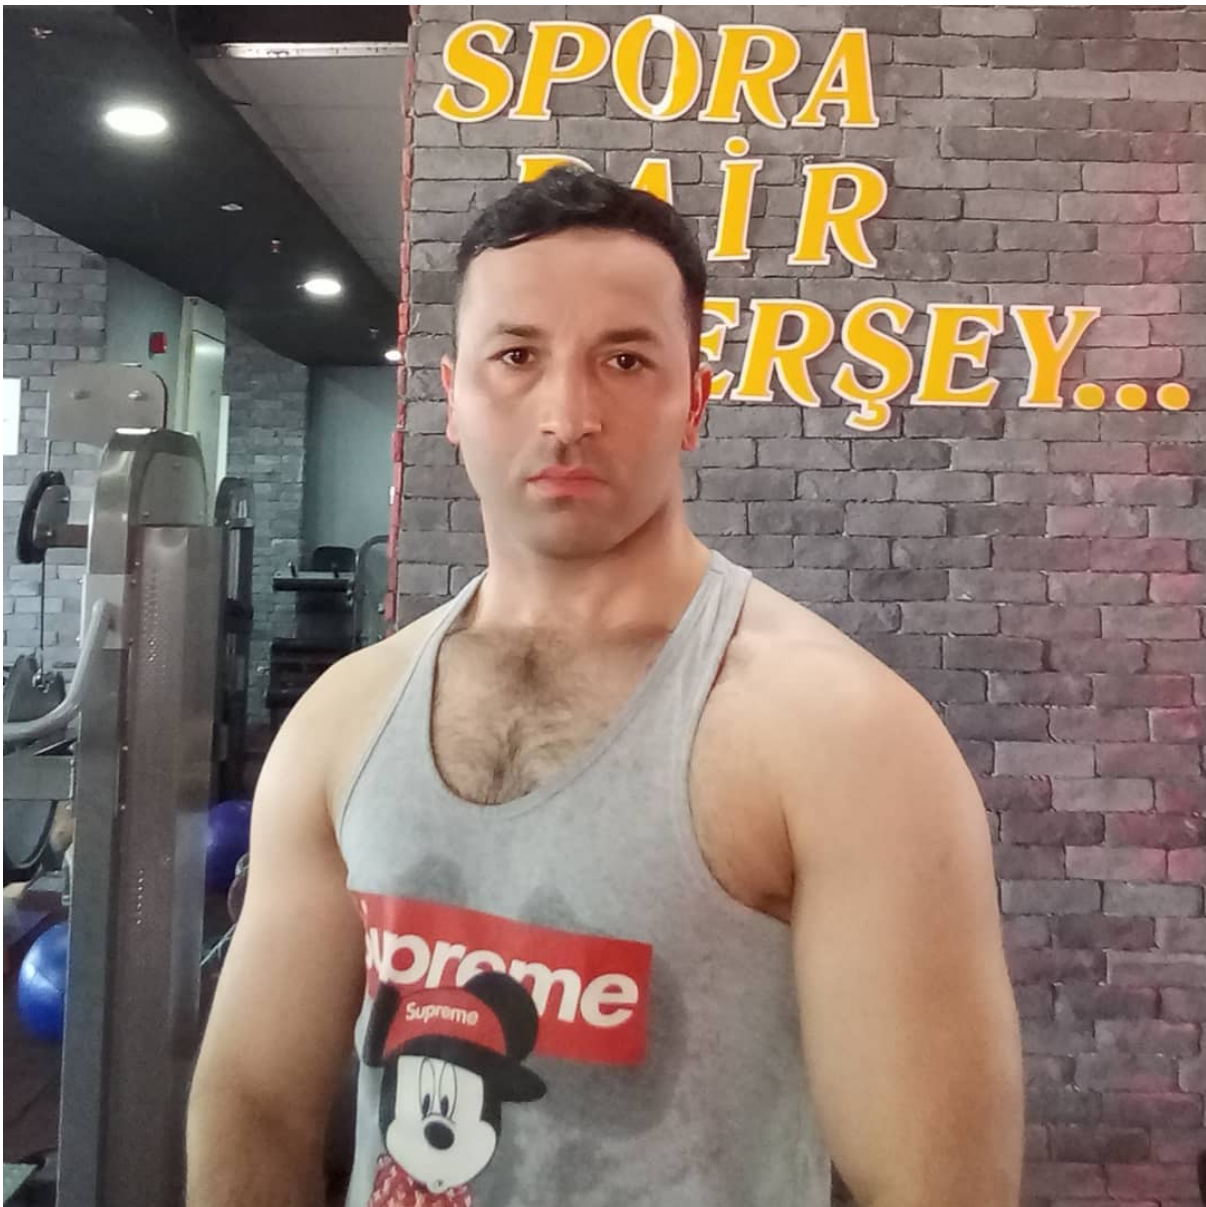

This Dianabol cycle involves taking a daily dose just before training. It is believed that if you take the drug before training, then its concentration in the blood rises significantly, which contributes to increased activity in the gym. To many, this Dbol cycle seems acceptable, but do not forget about the safety and effect of tablets on the ...
