Please join me today at 1:30 this afternoon for a Candlelight Yin yoga class. We will target both the deep connective tissues between the muscles, and the fascia throughout the body, this will help us increase circulation into the joints and improve flexibility and range of motion. As we quiet our minds and bodies on our mats, listen to music, and breathe we will slowly tune out the daily grind of our morning and our entire week and then slowly begin to listen to our body. I cannot promise that it's relaxing because it's difficult but I can promise that it's good for your body but I promise it will be HOT! 🔥
