We probably use the word “soap” every day to simply mean some sort of cleansing agent. What we do not realize is that most of what we call “soap” is not soap at all! Look at the label on your bar of commercial soap, shower gel or facial cleanser. Is it called "soap" on the label, or is it a “beauty bar,” “cleansing bar,” or “deodorizing bar?” and even if they use the word "Soap". Commercial bar soaps are produced on a large scale with harsh chemicals, synthetic ingredients, cheap fragrance oils, and artificial colors all of which can irritate your skin with the natural Glycerin removed. Detergent cleansers are popular because they make suds easily in water and don't form gummy deposits. Some of these detergent products are marketed as "soap" but are not true soap according to the regulatory definition of the word.
