Great card with an interesting main event. If Derek Lewis can land early I see him winning but if Oleinik can get him down it might just be over. Oleinik has shown to be vulnerable on the feet so will be very interesting ☐

Tracking every macro might sound nice if it lead to a 10kg loss of body fat over the next 10 weeks. But what if I said, you could implement some behavioural changes to lose 5kg in the next 10 weeks, but you could also eat a little more, have a bit more energy, eat out, and not have to worry about the tracking of food. Again, I'm sure most people would take the net positive of weight loss and better mental health of the latter (not saying tracking will deter everyone's mental health, just an eg)
