People might think "you're so lucky you're thin." Truth is I've been trying to gain weight for six months now, SIX months. I've tried eating more just healthy foods and even a dirty bulk and literally nothing. I've been adding smoothies on top of my breakfast and start my day off with 900 calories and still no luck. This is me right now and honestly I've lost a lot of my muscle growth, i miss being thickkk (healthy thickkk lol). I miss being able to fill out my work pants.

Final week before I make some tweaks to my training so I gave myself some singles....as a treat. Not too shabby considering I did this same weight about 4-5x until it was somewhat tighter.
