INJECTION FREQU

There is no one set injection frequency that works for every man on TRT. Some men feel great on weekly injections, while some men find the need to inject daily.

The half life of the Testosterone you are using will also play a factor. Cypionate, Sustanon, and Enanthate all have longer half lives, while Propionate has a short half life.

I feel the key is to inject the least frequently you can while feeling good. No reason to pin more than you need to. This will save you money and reduce scar tissue on your muscles over time.

Many men who inject more frequently use insulin syringes (27-29 Gauge) to make the injections easier and less painful.
