General medical dosage: 5-10mg per day; Female medical dosage: 1mg each day, though can exceed 2.5mg daily; Female users: 5-10mg daily; The actual dosage that you take will entirely depend on your tolerance of this steroid. You should know that the higher the dosage that you take, the more side effects that you will be at risk for. I spoke about the mental aspect of skin problems and lifestyle changes in the first part, now I will speak about hygiene and things you can apply to your skin to make it better.

On top of the test boosting ingredients, we've included estrogen balancing components to limit the potential negative effects that come from increased testosterone levels. Our team at REPP Sports wanted to formulate the ultimate testosterone boosting product that also helps regulate cortisol and estrogen levels to rid the negative impacts of a high stress lifestyle.
