My energy is that I've already won.

No competing, no jealousy, no acts of bitter behaviour. Everything I need today, I have. Everything I will need tomorrow, I will have. Therefore I am winning in my present, and know I'll be winning in my future too.

Gratitude for the now will take you places.

If there's one piece of advice I've learned throughout my journey is that if your not happy with where you're at , you have the power to change it . This year may have been filled with many obstacles medically and mentally . At this very moment ..I am feeling more confident with where I am right now physically and mentally despite my medical conditions I have so much more room for growth but looking back amazes how far I have come.~
