I remind the anamnesis - a child of 8 years old, resuscitation, mechanical ventilation, anesthesia! The disease is a volumetric formation of the mediastinum. Prominate 100 [METHENOLONE ENANTHATE]. Primobolan is a modification of dihydrotestosterone, an anabolic steroid with low androgenic activity, as well as a moderate anabolic lack of aromatization phenomena. It is compared with nandrolone only having a much smaller anabolic effect. Today, we'd like to delve into the Andean altar, specifically the altar used by the Q'eros shamans. The altar is the coming together of power elements, which tend to be stones, wrapped in a ceremonial textile. It's a natural and humble altar, one unequivocally linked to the Earth. The stones are the bones of the Pachamama and, together with the other power elements, form a bundle easy to transport as the Andean shaman makes his or her way through the mountains. The textile is made from the wool of mountain animals: llamas, alpacas or vicunas. Deep within the stones and the other power elements, the shaman stores the medicine he/she has cultivated: the wisdom of the Pachamama, the strength of the mountains, the flow of the rivers, the splendor of the snow, the power of lightening. When you receive the medicine of the Andean shaman, he/she shares the altar with you. Have you ever seen an altar belonging to an Andean shaman? Have you ever created your own ceremonial altar?
