In some European countries, however, 50 mg tablets are available at a reasonable price, and are a good buy for those who can obtain them. The claim, however, that methenolone acetate tablets help burn fat, as a result of being acetate esters, is purely a myth. As already mentioned, Primobol comes in form of tablets. The doses are set individually considering the medical condition and weight of each user. Each tablet contains 25 mg of methenolone acetate. Generally, it is indicated a dose in the range of 50-150 mg daily.
