Y'all I always cringe posting progress photos because I'm never satisfied but this the real me! I'm here to show up! So, the 75 hard paired with my Arbonne nutrition is making a difference! I see some growth and have noticed a HUGE difference in how my clothes fit! The number on the scale has stayed the same since January so I'm just shifting where my weight is in my body! Striving for progress not perfection!!!

So when I was younger I had zero confidence in terms of talking in front of people of any quantity. I used to hate doing English or language orals in front of the class. I would sweat thinking about it and dread my name being called out for my turn. I would blush and I meant tomato red, so much so, that my ears were the same red. It was emotionally and psychologically draining.

I'm super proud of myself how far I've gone and also to realise my strength has increased and it only takes a moment to say (PUSH YOURSELF TO THE LIMIT AND TEST YOUR STRENGTH) TRUST YOURSELF..
