In powerlifting, learning how to brace from the belly, using your diaphragm effectively allows rigidity throughout the torso and increases force transference from the ground up and hence weight lifted. □

Life happens. You live through tough times, everyone does. But it's what you learn from those tough times that makes your future brighter. I worked hard in both pictures. I lifted in both pictures. What I did do in 2020 is have tracked my macros (esp proteins) and made sure I ate my carbs.
