Oct 4, 2018 #3 ocman said: I've never used Dbol, but with the half life being so short, makes it a tough compound to keep blood levels on track. I would say if you're going to dose Dbol at 20mg/day, take 10mg AM, 10mg preworkout, rather than 20mg preworkout. Oral alone is not preferred. But if you insist, AI is necessary as DBOL aromatizes heavily.

Jan 5, 2011. Messages. 4,181. Dec 31, 2011. #6. I think it would make the most sence to have it at full strenth at workout. Dbol @ 4hrs, Adrol @ 8 and halo 1 hr prior, works for me. It would also have you at your most anabolic state at your biggest feeding window. Last edited: Dec 31, 2011.

Same with injectable dbol. 50mg about 90 mins pre workout. Injectable I do half ml into each muscle being worked. Train one day without, then next day with and compare the pumps and strength. You can see the water coming on the same day you take dbol if you are lean enough so it defiantly affects the body that day. "

What are your recommendations from these Anavar (10mg) vs anadrol (50mg) vs halo (10mg) vs dbol (10mg) I am just looking for these to fulfill a preworkout role and just get me to push more. First cycle so test should be enough for overall anabolism. My liver isn't happy on pushing oral hence only as preworkout. This thread is archived

To that i would be adding the dbol 10 or 20 mg pre workout. How about dropping your testE to about 300 and then the night b4 you workout use 50mg testP. Doing testP 3-4 x/week would put you at 450-500mg test total. The guys at my gym use test ace or test no ester the morning of the workout, but you would have to time a bit better with the testP.

Anadrol and Dbol being used as pre workout | MESO-Rx Forum

#1 I'm doing a blast in a couple of months and am toying with the idea of throwing in dbol for the whole 14 weeks. Thinking of doing only 20mg pre workout, while training 4 days per week. I absolutely want to avoid the bloat it gives me and I can just as easily not use it.
