Melanotan 2 produces its effects by binding with melanocortin receptors. There are five known melanocortin receptors, each with different function. MT-2 is known to bind primarily to MC-4R and MC-1R, but also binds weakly to MC-3R. MC-1R: Found on melanocytes, stimulation of MC-1R causes darkening of the skin and hair. Current research suggests that to make a habit stick, it must be performed for 68 consecutive days(dnt knw how true this is becoz some research says 21 days□). I would say figure out first what your goal is, determine the best route to achieve it & get started with step one.

I've been exercising for 10 years. Maybe I've used the supplement 4 to 5 times in the last 10 years. but i use multivitamins, Because sometimes everything we eat doesn't have the vitamins I need for my body. So a multivitamin fills that space. I've relied on my diet all along. But I believe supplement need for the body. Diet is your real supplement, which will make the base of your body. So when it comes to supplements, but first maintain your diet. Then the supplement you are taking will work great on your body.
