All non-essential travelers to Canada are subject to coronavirus-related public health measures. When you get to the border, you will need to show a negative COVID-19 test. Before you visit family, you will need to quarantine for 14 days. There may be some flexibility for compassionate reasons, but otherwise you will have to demonstrate to a border #officer that you have a quarantine plan. It should show where you will stay, and how you plan to get essential items such as food, groceries and #medicine. read
