Obesity is one of the most preventable causes of death worldwide. It is associated with increased risk of numerous medical conditions such as cardiovascular and metabolic disorders. Main non-invasive weight loss treatments include changes in diet and regular exercise. However, proven medications as supplemental treatments to diet and exercise are rare. Provibol - a hormonal drug, the active ingredient of which is Mesterolone, is able to strengthen the functions of erection and cause a slight androgenic activity. Bodybuilders use Provibol during the course of anabolic steroids - it helps to solve a wide variety of tasks. Provibol does not give steroids...
