A combination of two routinely used fat loss agents; Helios is a mixture of 40 mcg Clenbuterol to 5 mg Yohimbine HCL, per ml. At first glance, there doesn't seem to be anything special about this basic formulation, making it easy to question its overall appeal in comparison to traditional versions of these drugs.

Helios I have heard Helios (clenbuterol/yohimbine hcl blend) is suppose to be a site injection supplement to get rid of fat. It was explained to me that where ever you wanted to get rid of fat you just injected the helios with a insulin syringe in that area. I want to find out if anyone has used the supplement and if it truly works.
