As you can see from above, your dietary choice doesn't mean you cannot get enough protein in your diet, it may just mean you have to think a little harder about it, let me explain. Animal protein is complete protein, meaning you can get all the essential amino acids from eating a piece of meat. Vegetarian or vegan protein sources such as grains, nuts, & seeds do not individually have all essential amino acids so you need to make sure you are having a variety of these to ensure you are getting them all. For example, having grains and legumes or nuts & seeds plus legumes. This does not mean that vegetarian/vegan sources are low in protein, you just must think differently about consuming them.

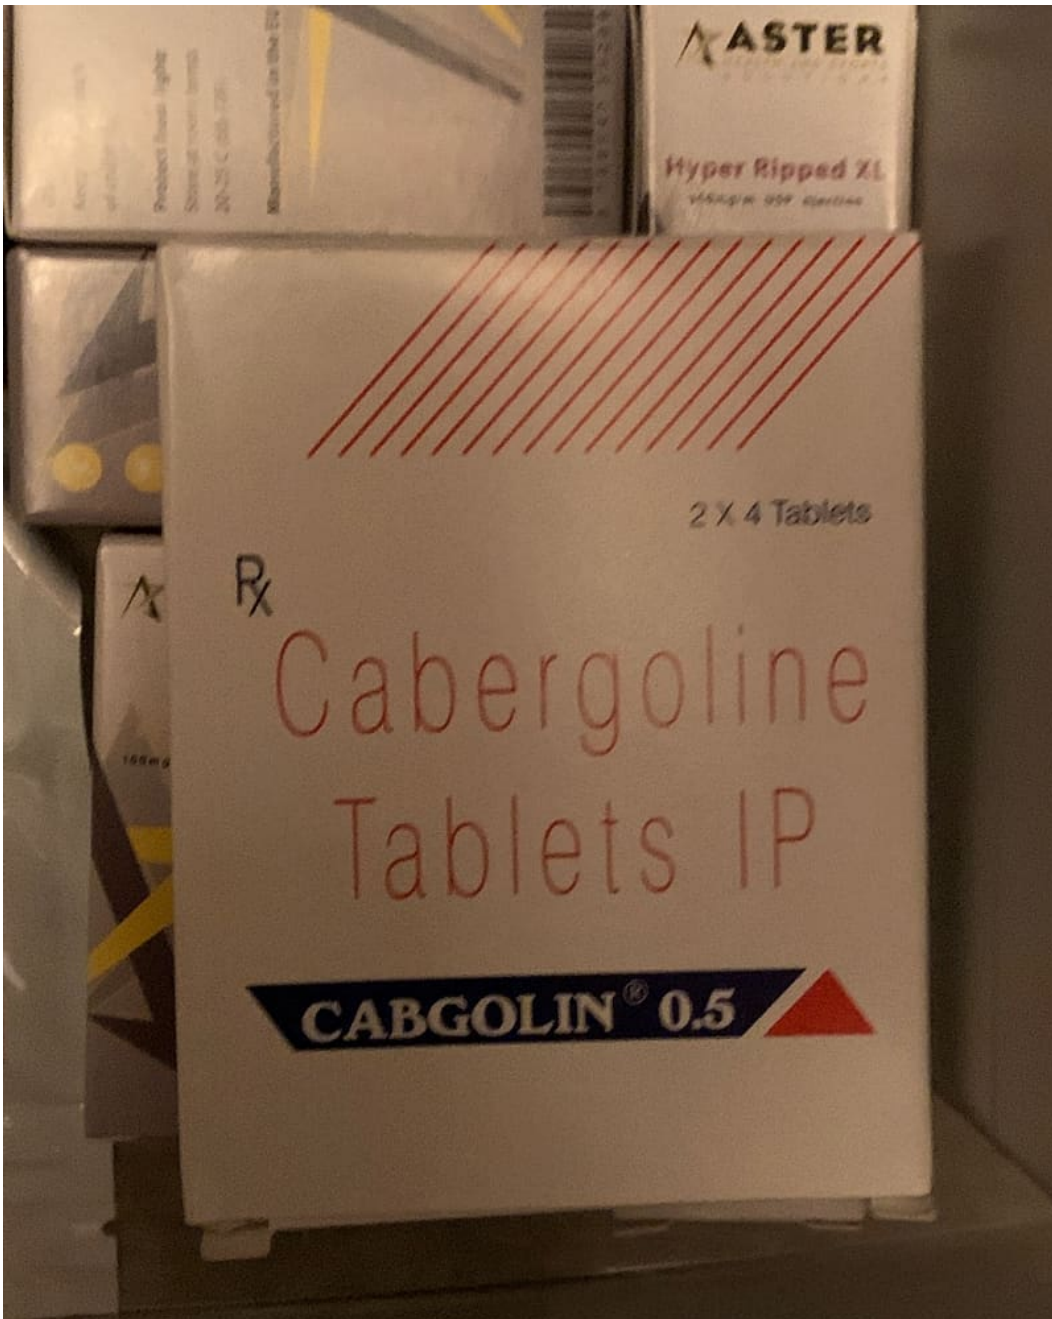

Formulado a base de cafeína, o Thermo Físio 420 da @fisionutribrasil é um termogênico de alta performance. Quando associado a sua ingestão com o treinamento físico ajuda na queima de gordura, além de acelerar o metabolismo, retardar a fadiga e aumentar a performance.
