The many phases/faces of healing. The messy methodical madness is truly beautiful. Shedding layers in each season creating space for growth requires great strength and humility. Seeing the scattered pieces and being able to see them as a whole is a superpower. I love this journey of growth. I love the moments of challenge just as much as I love the moments of bliss. Each serving as a reminder that we are alive and very much human. Sending love and grace to those who are courageous enough to be vulnerable in this experience. 🧠🔍👉👈 #inwardjourney #outwardjourney #growth #healing.
