→?A study in 2011 by Rachel Leproult, PhD & Eve Van Cauter, PhD took 10 healthy men with an average age of 24 years and restricted their sleep to 5 hours per night for 1 week. The results were a 10 to 15% decrease in testosterone levels. This should be concerning as this was a very short time of sleep restriction in young healthy men so for those of you who don't value your sleep and want maximal results from your training, career, lifestyle & longevity you may need adjust your lifestyle & habits..
