Woke up at 6am today, tried to force myself back to sleep. I couldn't do it, so I decided to play soothing or meditative music on YouTube aloud on my phone, got my head tie & wrapped it around my eyes & head & tried to fall asleep. As I was listening to the soft, calming sounds of the waves I started to get an image in my mind of a girl sitting on the shore line staring at the beautiful water, with the dark mysterious wonderful starry night sky reflecting off of it & it wouldn't leave my mind.. I then decided to get up, grab an empty canvas & my painting gear & started painting it. I tried to my best ability to recreate the image in a painting... I feel like I connect to this image a lot because I love the starry night, I love the moon, whenever I look up there I feel so at peace with myself & everything surrounding me & being on the beach makes me feel so happy. When I combine those 2 things together I feel sweet serenity & bliss. All worries & negatives washed away only to get sweet calming & positive things in return. ✨✨✨.
