clenbuterol weight loss how to take

Mom does so much that I forget she has limitations. Then, one morning, like today, she gets up, takes me out and then collapses on the blue couch for the rest of the day with a migraine and swollen joints. RA she says, though I can't see anything wrong. This invisible illness, depression and chronic pain flood her entire body, all the while her phone fills with holiday images she can only live vicariously. Her spirits are down, time ticks, her body cushioned against the couch, heating blanket and me. She strokes my head and whispers that I'm a great comfort. So, of course, I stay all day keeping good guard for a better tomorrow.
