The recommended dosage for men is between 20-30mg per day, while women should start at lower doses of around 5-10mg per day. These dosages can be increased gradually over several weeks to achieve the desired results.

When used at the correct dosages, Bioniche Pharma Anavar can help to increase strength, muscle mass, and fat loss. It is a popular steroid among bodybuilders and athletes who want to improve their physical performance and appearance.

It is important to note that the dosages of Bioniche Pharma Anavar should be individualized based on your personal health, weight, and goals. Always consult with a healthcare professional before starting any steroid cycle to ensure it is safe for you.

As someone who has been lifting for years, I can honestly say that Bioniche Pharma Anavar is one of the best supplements I've used. Not only did it help me gain lean muscle mass, but I also noticed a significant decrease in body fat. The difference in my physique is noticeable and I've received compliments from friends and family. It's important to note that while I did see results relatively quickly, it's not a magical pill and requires dedication and consistency both in the gym and in your diet. The product is also quite expensive, but in my opinion, it's worth the investment if you're serious about fitness. Overall, I highly recommend Bioniche Pharma Anavar to anyone looking to take their physique to the next level.
