Can honestly today was probably one of the most "not there" sessions I've had in a while. After a not so energised end to the week and a very early rise I didn't go in into this session feeling my best BUT the thought of shying away from something I really love just isn't within my mind so I took what was there. This is an ALL TIME matched PR and I'm happy to say it wasn't the lightest. My back off seen deadstops at 6pps. Full day filmed for YouTube tomorrow night @ 7pm

☐ If you don't care enough for you, hear this. Someone else cares for you and needs you. I speak strongly and passionately about health and wellness because it's not only about me. I have responsibilities and place value in the lives of others and I'd be selfish if I stripped that from them because I didn't invest in myself the way I needed to. If you read this in discomfort, it's a sign for change and I encourage/support you in creation of it. Find a reason that's bigger than you and you'll find your reason to begin and keep going
