TB-500 Functions and Traits The thymus gland as well as in various localized cells in the human body produces thymosin Beta-4 (TB-4). TB-4 is found in cytoplasm in high levels of concentration as well as in wound fluid. TB-500 is designed to promote the actionable area - the part of TB that promotes healing. US Made Products! WARNING This product is a very potent chemical. This product is NOT for human use and can be harmful if ingested. This product is for research/laboratory use only. The protocol I will be following for TB-500 requires a 1.5 mg injection daily. Most reconstituting protocols suggest a volume of .5 ml per 1 mg of peptide. The issue is at 1.5 mg of TB-500, this equals to 830 ul in a syringe. I would like to cut the BAC down to .25 ml per 1 mg of TB-500. Which in turn would only require 415 ul per injection.
