Losing weight is so much more than the physical appearance. I get all of these hate comments saying that these photos I post on the left are perfectly normal and I shouldn't promote that being thinner is better. And I'm not. All bodies are amazing in their own way. But in my case, being thinner is better for ME. Not because being thinner is better in general, but because the person on the right happens to be a much, much better person than the one on the left & guess what? She just happens to be thinner too ☐☐♀☐
